

Table of Contents

1. Action Research Report

1) Aki Hakamada (Junior High School)
“More Communicative Activities in Classroom” .....	1
2) Hiromi Osuka (Junior High School)
“How Should We Improve Japanese Students’ Communication Abilities? – Teaching grammar communicatively through TBLT” .....	8
3) Hiromi Tsuji (Senior High School)
“Integrating Language Skills in English II” .....	29
4) Joseph Wood (University)
“Getting Students to Use Communication Strategies”	40
5) Keiko Takahashi (Senior High School)
“Developing an Extensive Reading Program and its Effect on Students’ Reading Skills”	56
6) Michael Rector (Junior High School)
“Phonics in Japanese Middle School Classrooms”	74
7) Mie Kato (Senior High School)
“Extensive Writing”	84
8) Mina Westby (Language School)
“Improving Students’ Speaking Abilities with a Communicative Approach”	94
9) Mitsuru Hirano (Senior High School)
“Improving a Student’s English Level Through Communicative Language Activities”	110
10) Miwako Kushiro (Senior High School)
“Incidental Focus on Form”	125
11) Miyuki Inoko (Senior High School)
“Developing Students’ Reading Skills through Integrated Language Learning”	139
12) Norihiko Nagi (Senior High School)
“Three-minute Timed Conversation in English II”	155
13) Reiko Iwai (Senior High School)
“Integrated Language Skills in English II”	169
14) Takako Totsuka (Language School)
“Raising Students’ Awareness of Their Goals and Organizing an Effective Assessment System”	184

15) Takemi Morioka (Junior High School)
“Improving Writing Skills”	194
16) Yoshiaki Funahashi (Senior High School)
“Improve Reading Skill and Create an Autonomous Reader“	201
17) Yuji Tanaka (Junior High School)
“More Effective Communicative Activities for Different Level Students”	213
18) Yukimi Fukumoto (Junior High School)
“Increasing Students’ Motivation & Confidence with Communicative Language Teaching”	224

2. Newsletter

No. 1: Aki Hakamada ‘Teaching English Communicatively to Junior High School Students’
Seiji Shintani ‘Developing Students’ Communicative Abilities through Three-Year Integrated Writing Classes’	235
No. 2: Suzanne Miyake ‘Creating Dynamic Readers: Reading Strategies and Reading Circles’	241
No.3: Noriko Ishitobi ‘How to develop communicative activities in junior high school’
Hiromi Tsuji ‘My Action Research’	246
No.4: Kazuyoshi Sato ‘Assessment for Learning Part I’	250
No.5: Keiko Takahashi ‘Assessment for Learning in a High School Classroom’	254
No.6: Nancy Mutoh ‘Assessment for Learning (Part II)’	258
No.7: Juanita Heigham & Robert Croker ‘Promoting teacher development through peer observation’	264
No.8: Mathew White ‘Intelligent Choices: Designing Lessons that Cater to the Diversity of Learning Preferences in Your Class’	269
No.9: Hiromi Osuka ‘Teaching grammar communicatively through Task-Based Language Teaching (TBLT)’
Miwako Kushiro ‘Introducing focus-on-form instruction (FFI) and its effect on student learning’	273
No.10: Brian Cullen ‘Understanding and Using Textbook’	278
No.11: Paul Crane ‘Rubrics for Busy Teachers: How to Create and Use Rubrics for Assessment and Grading’	282
No.12: Junko Yamanaka ‘Extending Extensive Reading: You Are the Key ’	285
No.13: Final Presentation	289